Project MEDUSA,

After the public exposure of various projects of ENERGYCORP leaked online thanks to ZAAap, one stands out the most! As part of a joint effort between EnergyCOPR and several high profile politicians, the CEO of EnergyCorp ordered the R&D department halt all efforts for green energy since 2014.

The alerting information proves how corrupted the politicians are and how companies like ENERGYCORP are bribing their way out of costs, sacrificing the health of citizens worldwide.

Energy Scandal in EU

A huge scandal is brewing in the EU energy sector. Files leaked by the latest hack against EnergyCorp reveal a slowdown of operations of green energy power plants in favor of carbon friendly alternatives.

High profile politicians are involved in this lobbying effort to maintain environmental unfriendly means of power generation in operation despite a number of EU directives already in effect.

A loophole has been exposed used by EnergyCorp along presumably other big energy players.
